Chris,

As a follow up to the charts I just sent you, could you please consider adding men's and women's fencing back in to our sports portfolio.

Given the limitations that the Ivy League has regarding admissions slot calculations, I strongly suggest this.

Fencing has the highest AI. Allocating some slots to fencing will increase our department AI and provide more flexibility for the other sports.

Fencing has a high admissions slot value in the Ivy League formula. This will allow more slots to be allocated to other sports.

Fencing does not impact any facility issues. They practice off campus.

I want this effort to be best for Brown. I am comfortable that all this work will help us get better. I am concerned that we have not done enough to improve the athletics program.

I take full responsibility that I should have understood this calculation. But now that we are aware before making an announcement, there is an opportunity to adjust it and better our teams.

I am concerned.

Jack
