

Favorable plea agreement in felony computer crimes case

Bailey Glasser represented a state court criminal defendant charged with six felony computer sex crimes, exposing him to a potential sentence of 60 years in prison. Counsel obtained a favorable plea agreement that included the preclusion of additional charges for the possession of child pornography and then argued for and obtained an alternative sentence, making it possible for the defendant to serve as little as six months.

Practice Areas

Criminal Defense & Internal Investigations

Sexual Abuse & Harassment