

Bailey Glasser Announces Three New Partners

01.07.2019

Bailey Glasser is pleased to announce the election of Kate Charonko, Cary Joshi, and Mary Pat Statler as partners in the firm. “We are especially proud to welcome Kate, Cary, and Mary Pat as partners,” said John Barrett, the firm’s President and COO. “Each of them has distinguished themselves in their practices – Kate as our firm’s e-discovery leader and manager of paraprofessionals, Cary as an outstanding litigator and leader in our Washington, DC office, and Mary Pat as a go-to trial lawyer and our deputy general counsel. We’ve worked with each of them for years, and we look forward to their leadership and service to our clients as partners in the firm.”
