

Former Developer Blixseth Tries to Get Out of Jail for Christmas

12.22.2015

Tim Blixseth, the founder of Yellowstone Club who has been jailed for more than 8 months has filed an emergency petition with a federal court asking for his release ahead of Christmas. Blixseth was jailed in April for contempt of court for not disclosing the details of a Mexico property sale.

Bailey Glasser attorney Kevin Barrett represents the Trustee of the Yellowstone Club Liquidating Trust.

Wall Street Journal: Former Developer Blixseth Tries to Get Out of Jail for Christmas

Attorneys

Kevin W. Barrett

Practice Areas

Bankruptcy & Business Reorganization