12.06.2019

As part of the book, 50 Lessons for Women Lawyers - From Women Lawyers, Bailey Glasser Partner Katherine Charonko contributed a lesson that encourages female attorneys to utilize passion, patience, and people to be successful in their law practice. Katherine discussed how being diagnosed with dyslexia at a young age never stopped her from meeting her goals and creating her own path in life.

Throughout this publication, Katherine and 49 contributors from the United States and Canada provided lessons for women at every stage of their careers. Contributors included women in private and public practice, current and former national, state, and local bar association presidents, judges, law school faculty, entrepreneurs, and other published authors.
