Ben Hogan is a zealous courtroom advocate for his clients. With a practice generally focused on complex civil litigation, Ben represents clients in nationwide consumer class actions, civil rights, antitrust, Title IX, and products liability litigation. His practice also includes a diverse array of appellate litigation matters.

In addition to serving as lead counsel in numerous appeals in state and federal courts, he often consults on appeals within the firm. He has represented individuals, companies, universities, and state governments in cases valued in the hundreds of millions of dollars.

Most recently, he has represented various state governmental entities, including the Governor of West Virginia, in emerging and groundbreaking litigation arising from challenges to governments' responses to the COVID-19 pandemic.
