

Bailey Glasser Proudly Sponsors WVU's TransTech Energy Business Development Conference

08.17.2016

Bailey Glasser proudly sponsors the 5th Annual TransTech Energy Business Development Conference scheduled for October 26-27, 2016 in Morgantown, WV.

The conference is being held to promote investment in new companies that can provide solutions to energy, environmental, and economic development challenges such as creating new jobs and more competitive industries.

The conference agenda includes pitch sessions by start-up companies and commercializable projects that are scored by panels of investors and industry experts to determine the best commercial ideas.

Bailey Glasser partner, Jonathan Deem, will serve as a judge during one of the pitch sessions. Jonathan works in the firm's Washington, D.C., and Charleston, WV offices. His areas of practice include business transactions, mergers and acquisitions, contracts, commercial litigation, arbitration, and energy law.

For more information, visit the conference website at <http://transtechenergy.org>.
