

Bailey Glasser's Trish Kipnis Receives Child Advocate Award

04.20.2017

Trish Kipnis, a partner in the firm's New Jersey office, was honored by The Support Center for Child Advocates with a Distinguished Advocate award for her twelve years of work as a child advocate in Philadelphia.

The Support Center for Child Advocates celebrated their 40th anniversary by recognizing "40 for 40" - forty friends, volunteers and community leaders who make their work with children possible.

"Trish has been a longtime volunteer with Child Advocates. She's very engaging and makes our child clients comfortable. She is dedicated to providing stellar advocacy to our clients in addition to devoting as much time as she can to attending meetings and visits," said Jess Hayden, Child Advocate Social Worker, Support Center for Child Advocates.

Trish concentrates her practice on complex litigation and appellate advocacy, including mass torts, consumer rights litigation, class actions and contract disputes.

Attorneys

Patricia Mulvoy Kipnis