

Judge Wants Blixseth to Reveal Fate of Diverted Cash

04.22.2016

A federal judge demanded that jailed former billionaire Tim Blixseth reveal what happened to hundreds of millions of dollars he diverted from a luxury mountain resort, raising the prospect that a decade long legal saga could be coming to an end.

Kevin Barrett of Bailey Glasser's Charleston, WV office, was quoted in an article in The Seattle Times.

"If he does what the judge has ordered him to do, that will be a potential treasure trove for everybody to see what Tim Blixseth did with his millions and millions of dollars," said Kevin Barrett, an attorney with Bailey and Glasser, the law firm representing the club's creditors.
